

Addison

Veterans Day Essay

Veterans Day is important because it honors the people who have served in the military for our country. It honors people that perished and those who survived.

The History of Veterans Day

Veterans Day originated in 1918 on November 11 when World War 1 ended, but it was called Armistice Day it became a federal holiday. Eventually Armistice Day's name was changed to Veterans Day.

My grandfather was in the air force from 1957-1963 he was stationed in the Arctic Circle where he worked on jet planes.

Each branch of the military is important because they all do certain things to help our country. The branches of the military are the Coast Guard, the Navy, the Marines, the Air Force and the Army.

In conclusion, Veterans Day is very important because it honors those who served for our country in the military (all branches) it honors those who perished and who survived when they were fighting for our country.