

Veterans Day Essay

I honor all the Veterans who served in the Army and other military branches and wish that they have returned happily to all their families and friends. I hope they have been living a good life so far and wish them a happy Veterans Day. Also all support goes to you guys.

The History of Veterans Day

The first Veterans Day was celebrated on November 11 at the end of WWI in 1918. President Woodrow Wilson made it a holiday, and it was originally known as Armistice Day.

Celebrate

How Veterans Day is normally celebrated there would be big parades in major cities. Also the President gives a speech to honor all the Veterans for their service and how much they sacrificed for our country. And at 11:00am a moment of silence is observed to remember the Veterans.

Facts about Veterans Day

A lot of people think its Veteran's Day but they're wrong. Veterans Day does not belong to one Veteran or multiple Veterans it to honor all Veterans. Did you know that Veterans Day is not the same as Memorial Day? Did you know that WWI formally ended on November 11th at the 11th hour and in the 11th Month? That's why Veterans Day is celebrated on November 11th of each year and there is a moment of silence at 11:00 AM.

Closing Paragraph

I think Veterans Day is definitely a Holiday that should be honored because a lot of Veterans I think almost lost their lives protecting our country and serving for our country to make sure we were safe.
